Movement of Specie.

The specie freight, as we learn by telegraph, which has been going forward to the East during the week, is quite heavy. It is stated on the authority of a private dispatch, that another mile of specie is now on its way from California.

Decline in Breadstuffs.

The dispatches from Europe by the Arabia, announce a further decline in breadstuffs, which has had a tendency to keep down wheat about 5 cts for the past week. At the opening of the market, on Monday, the opening sales being at 64 cts. per bushel. The receipts were not large, amounting to 10,000 bushels.

Fall of Delhi.

The hope of all classes in this country—the friends of the Star Spangled Stripe, and the allies of the Red Stripe, stripe, and the ultra-neutrals not excepted—that the reports received in India, will be strongly confirmed by the news of the fall of Delhi, received by the Arabia in New York, yesterday. Engagements were entered into with its accustomed regularity.

Provision for the Unemployed.

We think from all quarters of the interior that the demand for employment will be greater this winter than at the present time. The proprietor, editor of the Sheboygan Mercury, in an article addressed to the people of his city, in an article addressed to the people of Sheboygan, offered his services in procuring them such help as they may require, and has been flooded with letters from all quarters of the Northwest, which bring his proffered services to a close; and we are glad to say that he has been instrumental in securing some employment for many of his countrymen who would otherwise, before the end of this month, have felt the pinching hand of poverty. Not only our peculiar circumstances, but the general depression in all branches of business, will make it difficult for the unemployed to obtain work, unless they will go where labor is in demand. At this way, will ask.—

Arrival from Japan.

The steamer JAPANESE, Senator Gwin and family, from Washington, D. C., from California, with the Japanese, named Joseph H. Heco, who acquired a good American education, and returned to Japan, where he is believed to be the only American in the country, and as such is looked upon with peculiar familiarity with the language and laws of his native land, he has given a valuable agent of our Government in its intercourse with Japan.

Decline in Breadstuffs.—The whole amount of specie brought in was $236,000, of which $200,000 was coin, within the last sixty days, and $130,000, leaving about the same amount to come. To meet this the Bank holds city bonds and loans to the amount of $150,000 acceptances of the firm of manufacturers of Davenport, and of $100,000 of county bonds and other liquid assets.

Death of Dr. Smith.

We regret to announce the death of Dr. W. D. SMITH, which occurred at his residence in this city, on Thursday last. He was apparently in the enjoyment of health, and was a native of Massachusetts, but was for many years a resident of Illinois, and was well known throughout the State. He had been a practicing physician for many years, and was a member of the Legislature of this State, and was also a member of the Legislature of Illinois. He

The Tariff and Bank Question.

We copy from the Albany Atlas and Argus some articles on the subject of the tariff and banks, since it is a matter which is now exciting much attention in all sections of the country, by reason of the recent suspension of the banks. The Atlas and Argus is the leading democratic organ of the State of New York, and as it is conducted by able men, its views on financial and political questions are entitled to much consideration. The Atlas and Argus says:

"The tariff of 1846 was framed by the democratic party, and was based upon the principle that the duties should be so adjusted as to yield the largest revenue, without prohibiting the importation of any article. The tariff of 1857 was framed by the republican party, and was based upon the principle that the duties should be so high as to prohibit the importation of many articles, and yield the largest revenue from the few articles which could be imported. The tariff of 1846 has yielded a revenue sufficient to meet the wants of the government, and to pay off the public debt. The tariff of 1857 has failed to yield a sufficient revenue, and has left a heavy debt unpaid. The tariff of 1846 has been in operation for eleven years, during which time the country has enjoyed unexampled prosperity. The tariff of 1857 has been in operation for a few months only, and the country is in the midst of a commercial revulsion, which has prostrated the business of the whole nation, and which is unparalleled in the history of the country. The tariff of 1846 has been administered by democratic officers, who have conducted the business of the government with economy and fidelity. The tariff of 1857 has been administered by republican officers, who have squandered the public money with a reckless extravagance which has astonished the world

Who that is troubled with any of those disagreeable complaints, such as Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Liver diseases of any kind, but would like to know of a remedy for these unseemly visitations? We feel that we are doing our fellow creatures a favor in calling their attention to Dr. Radway's Pills; a medicine that is the result of Dr. Radway's long study, and who is, for we know from personal experience, that it is one of the greatest remedies for general debility and consequent disorder bodily powers, ever before needed. In short it is intended to completely do away with the use of calomel, and to give relief the system, rouse the torpid, and if it does to others as it has to us, it will do so will be all that is needed. We know of nothing we can recommend with such confidence, as a family medicine, as Dr. RADWAY'S CELEBRATED REMEDIES. nov14-1w

☞ Dyspepsia, in all its various forms of complaint, home or resulting ideas, cold, cold, sallow like in appetite, producing constipation, flatulency, Nausea in the Stomach, and a thousand other ailments tending to prostrate at once the physical man; and say all of these ills yield like magic to Dr. HOSTETTER'S celebrated Stomach Bitters, giving the opposites it bears of restoring health to thousands who have tried its virtues and its surprising influence upon their almost despairing and broken constitutions. All should use these Bitters during the warm weather, which is the most effectual preventive of diseases known. For sale everywhere. nov9-1aw2w

☞ Almost everybody has heard of "Wood's Hair Restorative." That the word "Restorative" in this case, is no misnomer, we have the testimony of individuals whose elevated position in the country, as well as their acknowledged and honorable character as gentlemen, render whatever they publicly assert in the last degree reliable. Several of these have testified personally, the hair preparation of which we are speaking of, and verify in an unusual manner in the most public manner possible—their certificates can be seen at the proprietor's depot, 312 Broadway, New York, and each personal property says is stated, we have no hesitation in saying they will impress the most skeptical mind. Wood's Hair Restorative is doubtless the best article of the kind ever yet offered.

☞ It does not dye, but gives life, health and beauty to the decaying, falling and dead, restoring, as if by magic, the color which was supposed to be irrecovably lost. Heads nearly bald, and others nearly white, are daily being changed to their pristine beauty, and faces covered with pimples are restored to a smooth even tone, and blushing as a rose, all by the use of Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative. For sale at 312 Broadway, and by all Druggists.

Sold by all Druggists. nov14-1aw2w

HAIR DYE—HAIR DYE—HAIR DYE.—BATCHELOR'S HAIR DYE is the best in the world. Its the original and only harmless and reliable Hair Dye known. DALLEY'S MAGICAL PAIN EXTRACTOR.—In all diseases of inflammation more or less predominates. Now, to allay inflammation, strike at the root of the disease—cause an immediate cure.

Dalley's Magical Pain Extractor, and nothing else, will allay inflammation at once, and make a certain cure.

Dalley's Magical Pain Extractor will cure the following among a great catalogue of diseases: Burns, Scalds, Cuts, Chafes, Sore Nipples, Corns, Bunions, Bruises, Strains, Sprains, Poison, Chilblains, Biles, Scrofula, Ulcers, Fever sore, Felons, Ear-ache, Piles, Sore Eyes, Gout, Swellings, Rheumatism, Scald Head, Salt Rheum, Baldness, Erysipelas, Ringworm, Barber's Itch, Small Pox, Measles, Rash, &c., &c.

To some it may appear incredulous that so many diseases should be reached by one article; such an idea will vanish when reflection points to the fact, that the cause is a combination of ingredients, each and every one applying a perfect antidote to its opposite disorder.

Dalley's Magical Pain Extractor in its effect is magical, because the time is so short between disease and a permanent cure; and it is an extractor, as it draws all disease out of the system, leaving nature in perfect health before the injury. Will send anywhere in city by the boxes, wrapper or manufactory; should be one moment without it.

No Pain Extractor is genuine unless the bar has upon it a steel plate engraving, with the name of Henry Dalley, Manufacturer.

For sale by all the Druggists and patent medicine dealers throughout the United States and Canadas. Principal Depot, 165 Chambers street, New York.

CAUTION.

LEA & PERRINS' WORCESTERSHIRE SAUCE.—The alteration of Role Keepers, Proprietors of Native Bazaar, Caterers for Clubs, Messrs, and private Families, is commended to a trial of "LEA & PERRINS' Worcestershire Sauce. This condiment by its own merits has attained the highest rank as a piquant, palatable, and wholesome sauce, applicable to soup, fish, hot and cold meats, game, &c., &c., is eminently adapted to all climates of the globe.

The numerous "imitations" on both sides of the Atlantic speak loudly of its merits; and the fact that it received the only Medal and Honorable Mention for Sauces at the New York Exhibition, is a high testimonial in which to hold the genuine article, especially as the name of "LEA & PERRINS" is on the wrapper, label, bottle and stopper. Ask for "LEA & PERRINS' Worcestershire Sauce," and see that their names are on the wrapper, label, bottle and stopper. Sold by grocers and oilmen throughout the world.

Horrible Atrocities by the English near Benares.

Adventure of a 78th Highlander among the Sepoys—Burning of Native Villages—Hanging up of the Inhabitants by Troops by Wholesale, and treat—the Flogging process Horrible to relate.

The Aberdeen Herald publishes the following letter from a soldier of the 78th Highlanders, to a relative in Perth:

On the evening of the 27th of June there were 340 of the 78th, I was one of them—and 100 of the Sikhs, and 50 of the sowars, that is, native cavalry, went out of Benares in carts except the Horsemen. At three o'clock P. m. next day, we were divided into three lots to scour the country. The division I was in went to a village, which was deserted. We set fire to it and burned it to the ground. We were coming back when we met a gentleman who said that a village, about two miles off, was full of them, and that they were drawn up to give us battle. We marched, or rather ran to them; we got within 300 yards of them when they ran. We fired after them, and shot eight of them. We were going to the village, when a man came running out to us, and up with his hand, and saluted our officer. He shouted he was a Sepoy—that is, a native soldier—to seize him. He was taken, and about twelve more. We came back to the carts on the road, and an old fat man came to us, and wanted to be paid for the village we had burned. We had a magistrate with us; he found him out of harboring these villains, and giving them arms and food. Five minutes settled it. The Sepoy and the man that wanted money were taken to the road-side and hanged to a tree.

We lay on the road all night beside the two men hanging. Next morning we got up and marched some miles through the fields, the rain pouring down in torrents. We came to another village, set fire to it, and came back to the road. By that time the other divisions were not idle. They had done as much as us.

There were about 60 prisoners; six were hung that day and about 50 of them flogged.—After that, the magistrate said that there was a Holder that he would give 2,000 rupees for him dead or alive. We kept on the road that night, and the six men hanging beside us. At 6 o'clock P. M., the bugle sounded "fall in." Off we marched up to our knees in clay and water. We came to a village and set it on fire. The rain came down, and we got dry, and we soon got wet again with sweat. We came to a large village, full of people. We took about 200, and set fire to it. I went in, and it was all in flames. I saw an old man trying to trail out a bed. He was not able to walk, far less to carry out the cot. I ordered him out of the village, and pointed out the flames, and told him as well as I could that if he did not be made to be burned. I took the cot and dragged him out.

I came round a corner of a street or lane, and I could see nothing but smoke and flames. I stood for a moment to think which way I should go. Just as I was looking round, I saw a house and the door was barricaded but of the whole, and to my surprise I saw a native boy about four years old looking out at the door. I pointed the way out to the old man, and told him if he did not go I would shoot him. I rushed to the house I saw the little boy at. The door was by that time in flames. I thought not of myself; I thought of the poor helpless child. I rushed in, and after I got in there was a sort of square, and all round this were all in flames; and instead of seeing the helpless child, I beheld six children from eight to two years old, an old dotal woman, an old man not able to walk without help, and a young woman about 20 years old, with a child wrapped up in her bosom. I am sure the child was not above five or six hours old. The mother was in a hot fever. I stood and looked, but looking at that time would not do. I tried to get the little boys to fly, but they would not. I took the infant; the mother would have it; I gave it back; I took the woman and her infant in it by stress to carry her it the babe out. The children took the old woman and man. I took the lead, knowing they would follow. I came to a place that it was impossible to see whereabouts I was with flames. I dashed through, and called on the others to follow. After a hard fight, I got them all safe out, but one man all. Even coming through the fire part of their clothes, that did not half cover their bodies, were burned. I set them down in the field, and went in at another place. I saw nothing but flames all around. A little further, I saw a poor woman trying to come out. She could not walk; could only creep on her hands and feet. I went up to her and told her I would carry her out; but no, she would not allow me to do it; but, when I saw it was no use to put off with her, I took her up in my arms and carried her out. I went in at the other end, and came across a woman about twenty-two years of age. She was dragging over a man that to all appearance would not live the day out. She was wetting his lips with some siste. The fire was coming fast, and the others all around were in flames. Not far from this I saw four women. I ran up to them and asked them to come and help the sick man and woman out, as they might; they had no time to do, and so they had, poor things; but, to save the woman and the man, I drew my bayonet, and told them if they didn't I would kill them. They came, carried them out, and laid them under a tree. I left them. To look on, any one would have said that the flames were in the clouds. When I went to the other side of the village, there were about 140 women and about 60 children all crying and lamenting what had been done. The old woman of that small family I took out came, and I thought she would have kissed the ground I stood on. I offered them again biscuit I had for my day's rations, but they would not take it; it would break their caste, they said. The "assemble" sounded, and back I went with as many blessings as they could pour out on say thing nearest their heart.

Out of the prisoners that were taken, the man that the thousand rupees were offered for was taken by us for nothing. We hanged 70 of them on the spot, and flogged a great many—about 60. We burned another village that night. If you had seen the ten march round the ground, and see them looking the same as if nothing was going to happen to them!—There was one of them fell; he rose up, he and down he came. He rose up and looked at all round; he was hung up again. After they were all hanged, the others were all taken round to see them. Then we came marching back to the carts. On the 8th we—a number of 150—went out again at 2,000. We came up close to them; they were all drawn in three lines. It looked too many for us, but on we dashed, and in a short time they began to run. We set fire to a large village that was full of them; we surrounded it, and as they came rushing out of the flames shot them. We took eighteen of them prisoners; they were all tied together, and we fired a volley at them and shot them on the spot. We came home that night, after marching twenty miles, and fighting nearly thirty to one. We are told that we killed five hundred; our loss was one man and one horse killed, and one man and one horse wounded."

The Wisconsin River Improvement.

A party of surveyors have been sent out by the "Fox and Wisconsin River Improvement Co.," to make explorations and take soundings of the latter river, for the purpose of ascertaining the best means of improving the navigation of that stream. The expedition was fitted out at Portage City, and descended the river in an open boat. On their downward course the party landed at Sauk City, and remained one night at the United States Hotel in that place. Their report was very encouraging, and they stated that there is no serious obstacle in the way of improving the channel of the river so as to allow of navigation for all classes of Upper Mississippi steamboats, and the improvements could be made at a comparatively small outlay.

Between Portage City and Sauk City they found but few impediments existing even now; and at least twenty-five of the thirty miles, with a depth of water averaging from six to twenty feet, and a fine current. If this is not encouraging, and a sensible clincher against the "croakers" who have so long railed against the improvement of the Wisconsin River, why it will only be necessary to await the speedy completion of the proposed work, to effectually corner them. Such is the opinion, at least, of a Sauk City correspondent of the Milwaukee Journal, (apparently to Jas.) and to whom we are indebted for the above facts.—Madison Journal.

Impudent Rascal or Prudish Cass—Spicy Fallin.

—The Pen Yan Democrat says that one of those touching scenes, the nature of which is well understood when embraced within this definition, was tried at the Circuit Court in that village last week, Judge Wells presiding. The plaintiff was Miss Ethelinda Hankin, aged thirty-two years, and the defendant Mr. George Jones, aged thirty-one years, both of Milo. That he had courted and won the lady was an undeniable fact, for both having been sworn in the cause, both so testified. The offence set up was, that while in that state of relations towards each other, preceding matrimony, that lady became a convert to Spiritualism, and herself an interesting 'medium,' and the gentleman not favoring the idea of a crowd of unseen spectators to his marital endearments and domestic felicity, declined to interchange them at their lights, without which no crowd of Spiritualists. There was proof on the 9th of that the prospect had interposed his intended feet to the circle, and there side by side, had courted the presence of the passengers which sat tables to moving, and frightened said articles of furniture out of their wits.

The jury found that Jones should pay nine hundred dollars for the violation of his plighted faith after so long a courtship.

ILLINOIS CENTRAL RAIL ROAD.
LANDS FOR SALE.
THE ILLINOIS CENTRAL RAILROAD Company invites the attention of Agriculturists and Farmers to the fertile lands adjacent to their road, which are offered for sale upon low rates, and long credit at low rates of interest.

It is the policy and wish of the Company to sell all their lands to actual settlers; and no inducement is offered to speculators; in fact none will be sold except to actual settlers, with the distinct obligation of cultivation.

Illinois occupies a central position of the Western States, and combines the most fertile sections of the belt of land extending from the Atlantic Ocean to the Missouri River, in latitude of New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, Wisconsin, Iowa, and Northern Missouri.

Unlike the States North of us, the productions are not limited by rigorous winters on the one hand, or sickly autumnal heats, from the miasmatic influences of rank vegetation on the other. The land is rich and rapidly decreases in fertility, by imperceptible degrees, from the Lakes to the Ohio River, rendering it the best adapted to grazing, can never compete with those of this State.

The lands bordering upon the Mississippi and Kansas Rivers, and upon the lines of the prospered roads in Iowa, have been taken up, and are now settling at a rapid rate. But a few years, although settlers have to pay heavy freights upon the transportation of their agricultural and other products, will find their principal streets. The market house, good public and private schools, and churches of nearly all the denominations represented in the future growth of our country, this State, which combines the most favorable temperature with the greatest social and moral benefits, will be the home of the great grain producing district. It is full of mineral wealth, such as Coal, Iron, Lead, Limestone, &c., and has also within the advantages of climates and soils, of population, and of the investment of capital. Moreover, there is daily added to the inducements to settlement in Illinois which has not a supply of timber. The southern section of the State includes all that is valuable in the timber lands, and the extensive plantations of our party are situated in the Lakes, furnish cheap transportation to Chicago, and Southern markets.
